

"As of June 10th, 2005 the following water main technical standards and corresponding Water Main Application are to be utilized for all proposed water main construction projects. The intent of the technical standards is to ensure the protection of public health (water quality and quantity) during design and construction.

The Water Main Application should be completed and submitted with all water main project submittals for review and approval. Constructive comments on the content of the standards and application are encouraged and may be considered for future revisions. All comments should be directed to Tom Chyra, P.E. Sanitary Engineer at thomas.chyra@po.state.ct.us"
